

AP English IV Reading List

You will need to read three of these books (one each for the first three six weeks of school). At the end of each six weeks you will be tested over the book you have decided to read for that given six weeks. During the fourth six weeks of school you will produce a literary criticism research paper over one of the three books you have read, or you have the option to analyze Hamlet or Macbeth as well.

A reading response journal will be kept on each book. You will write down passages you may find interesting or that may pertain to a topic you will wish to research during our research paper project. You will also be "answering" specific assigned "questions". This response journal MUST be turned in each Friday.
